

SOUTHERN BORDER SERVICES

U.S.-MEXICO BORDER MANAGEMENT

Southern Border Services

U.S.-Mexico Border Management

Grow your business beyond borders

The U.S.-Mexican border has long been a pain point for North American importers and exporters, regardless of which side of the border they're on. Increased trade flow, complex regulations and increased security concerns make for a lot of moving pieces – and trying to manage them all can take a tremendous amount of time and human resources. It can also be costly if it's not done right.

The most efficient, cost-effective way to manage your U.S.-Mexico border operations

At Livingston, we've created a unique solution that specifically addresses your U.S.-Mexico border management needs. Our team of specialists are experts when it comes to understanding the intricate trade requirements of the southern border. Plus, our strict process controls mitigate the risk of border delays and penalties for non-compliance.

Our experts will work closely and collaboratively with your internal customs team, inserting our solution right into your daily import process.

Our U.S.-Mexico Border Management service includes:

- Northbound and southbound shipment coordination and troubleshooting.
- U.S. and Mexico customs clearance and export filing.
- Management and oversight of all third parties needed to ship, store, and clear your goods into and out of Mexico – including contract management and metrics reporting on each one.

Find out how Livingston's team of experts can help you manage southern border complexities.

- Single point of contact along the border for you, your suppliers, and your supply chain service provider.
- Trade document preparation.

Why choose Livingston's U.S.-Mexico Border Management solution?

Our U.S.-Mexico customs specialists

Our network of specialized bilingual professionals have extensive expertise in both U.S. and Mexico customs. Our team includes experts in trade operations with leading global multinational corporations, licensed customs brokers, certified logistics engineers, certified inspection brokers and C-TPAT certified staff.

We have the tools and processes to help you succeed

We're always investing in new processes and technology that can help you succeed in today's global marketplace. Our approach combines best practices, workflow tools and process control metrics to monitor performance and drive continuous process improvement.

Our compliance expertise

We'll help you manage the complexities and varying regulations of the U.S. -Mexico border by ensuring you and your third party suppliers are following the correct procedures. We continually rate and report on your service providers eliminating the need for you to negotiate, select, or manage any of your service providers on the border. We'll help you maximize your cost savings. With an efficient and predictable flow of goods over the U.S.-Mexico border, you can shave days off of your supply chain – and that translates into significant savings on your inventory carrying costs. Plus, in letting us manage the border for you, you and your staff will have more time to focus on core business priorities.

With Livingston helping you manage your entire U.S.-Mexico border operations, you'll benefit from lower internal operating costs, improved efficiencies and best-in-class trade compliance – and ultimately, a business that can grow beyond borders.

Our experts on the border manage the challenges associated with crossing the U.S.-Mexico border, providing you and your customers with an effortless and predictable cross border process.

Contact Livingston

Have questions or need help with your shipments? Contact your account executive, write to us at: simplify@livingstonintl.com or give us a call at 1-800-837-1063